THE BEACH AND WATER SPORTS

- A. Read about the Hutton family. Can you suggest at least three things they should each take with them when they go on holiday?

The Hutton family is going to the seaside for the summer holidays. Everyone in the family wants to do something different. Josephine has just finished her exams. She wants to sleep and to sunbathe. She doesn't want to get sunburnt and she doesn't want to get wet - it ruins her hair. Josephine's mother, Peggy, is much more energetic than her daughter. She adores swimming and water skiing. In fact, she's usually in and out of the water all the time. Gerry likes the same things as his mother. He's not keen on water skiing, but he loves snorkelling and he's a very good surfer. Gerry's sister, Natalie, used to go snorkelling too, but now she's an experienced scube a diver. She took a course last summer and belongs to a scuba diving club. That's where she bought most of her equipment. Natalie's father, Robert, doesn't mind sitting by the sea in the shade, but he doesn't intend going in the water. He enjoys fishing, so he's taking all his equipment with him. Jim, the youngest member of the Hutton family, just wants to spend all day on the beach building sandcastles and playing games.

TELEPHONE.

Read the text:

Telephoning

If you want to ring somebody up, you pick up the receiver, wait for the dialing tone and then dial your number; if you are not sure of the number, you look it up in the telephone directory (book).

After you have finished dialing, you may hear a series of high-toned blips, which means that the line is engaged (then you hang up or replace the receiver) or you may hear the calling-signal (i.e. a series of separate slower blips), which means that the line is free, and you just have to wait until your party answers your call.

If you happen to have no private (home) phone you walk up to the nearest telephone booth (public phone, call phone).

You start by dropping a coin into the slot. But for a trunk call (long-distance call) you have to make use of the operator. If you are calling from an extension phone, things work a little differently. Indeed, instead of waiting for the signal and then dialing your number, you'll hear the switchboard operator say: "Number, please", or "Switchboard operator", or "...Hotel operator" will either repeat your number (to make sure she got it right), or just say "Thank you", and try to put you through.

By the way, in giving your number don't forget to give it figure by figure (e.g. seven-oh-five-oh - 70-50).

When you have been put through, you may hear a voice, saying "Hello" at the other end, but it's much more likely that the person answering will either repeat his own phone number, e.g. "Kensington 2209 (here) (speaking)", or give his name or name of the office in full.

Answer these questions:

1. How do you know that the line is engaged or free?
2. What is the switchboard operator's job?

Mes netgi paplaukiojome valtimi Sena (in the Seine /seɪn/). Vėlai po pietų išvykome į Dižoną (Dijon). Mes buvome pavargę, bet labai laimingi. Vakare paskambinome tėvams ir kalbėjome apie kelionę mažiaug pusvalandį. Rytoj mes važiuosime į Marselį (Marseille).
